STUDIO R

Studio R was founded in 1992 and was located in the Hillcrest Shoppes (the Long Building) in downtown Waynesburg. The studio housed art supplies and the painting of artist Carol L. Randolph, who also offered classes. Now her studio is in her home at 554 Ross Street on the northside of Waynesburg. She does all of her painting there – both fine art and craft art. It is also the location of Studio R's annual open house. The open house is open to everyone who enjoys seeing hand painted items such as canvasses, saws and other tools, sleds, gourds, etc., as well as original note cards with prints of her painting and hand made jewelry and wood items. This year there will be tables and candle holders available for purchase that are made of wood from the Carmichaels Covered Bridges as well as wood from Hanna and Miller Halls of Waynesburg University. The open house is always the first weekend in October; so this year it will be Friday, October 3rd from 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., and Saturday October 4th from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. It is a favorite event in the autumn and many people do their Christmas shopping there as they enjoy coffee and cookies. Everyone is welcome. Carol Randolph is an award-winning artist in both oils and sumi-e and has taught internationally. Her work is held in private collections in the U.S., Canada and Europe. She will be teaching classes at the Waynesburg Senior Center. For more information about the classes that are open to all, call Carol Andrew at 724-627-6366. For more information about Randolph's paintings, commissions or the open house, e-mail her at mystudioR@alltel.net or call 724-852-6363. The web site is www.mystudioR.com.
